Programme Highlight

The state-of-the-art Advanced Manufacturing Centre (AMC) is a pioneering advanced high-end manufacturing base for forward-looking industrialists and provides a foundation for Hong Kong's "new industrialisation" goals. The AMC acts as a solution for innovative entrepreneurs to help turn their ideas into innovative products, streamline the production process, and fast-track these products into the market.

AMC is fitted with advanced manufacturing and testing processes, enabling companies of all sizes to engage in highly customised production for high-value-added but low-volume tech innovations. It is Asia's first multi-industry advanced manufacturing facility integrated with automated and smart logistics solutions. It provides the ideal launchpad for sectors such as IoT and smart electronics while serving as an innofacturing base for various industries including medical products, biomedical devices and robotic technologies.

The two hours technical visit will bring to members in a holistic view through project briefing and site walk on the various design elements such as seawater district cooling system, 3PL automatic logistics solution demonstration and production unit etc.
